Serious Accident - Crowds of the Faithful - Whist - A Week of Social Events -People Who Come and Go-Easter

Saturday evening last at about 7:15, while on his way home from Bridge-ort. Charles Thompson, brother of J. W. Thompson, in stepping from a trol-ley car near the switch at Main street and East Broadway, was thrown vio-lently to the ground, and picked up unconscious. He was taken into the office of Dr. De Howland, when it was found that he had suffered a disloca-tion of the left shoulder, that his nose was broken, and that the fingers of his right hand were badly injured. He was put under the influence of chloroform and the dislocation was reduced after which he was moved to his home in Church street. Yester-day he was resting comfortably. Mr. Thompson is over 70 years of age, and his injuries are severe, but it is hoped Thompson is over 70 years of age, and his injuries are severe, but it is hoped no serious complications will set In. The conductor had called out "Stratford Center," and the presumption is that Mr. Thompson supposed the car had come to a full stop. The car should always stop at the pole, which contains the signal light, and it almost opposite the church. The trolley was on its way to Paradise Green.

Large crowds of the faithful filled St. James' church at both of the morning masses yesterday. Over 100 men marched in line from Stratford avenue to the church for the early mass, and at half past ten the edifice was again crowded. The altar was beautifully decorated with Easter Illies, carnations, hyacinths and hyderangeas. Father Fitzpatrick sang the mass in a very distinct and clear volce, and at the end of the service many crowded to the rail of the altar to receive his blessing. The choir rendered the Easter music in an exceptionally fine manner, and altogether the services were very interesting and hearted the Easter music in an exceptionally fine manner, and altogether the services were very interesting and heartily participated in by the people.

At St. James' yesterday Father O'Connor called attention to the fact that a whist for the benefit of the building fund will be given tomorrow evening at the town hall. All of the lower floor of the hall has been reserved for the players while dancing lower floor of the hall has been reserved for the players, while dancing will be enjoyed in Red Men's hall. There will be refreshments, many pretty prizes, and the music will be by Costellote's orchestra. The prospect is that many people will be present from Bridgeport, while it is known that all the parish will turn out.

Sunday last, at St. James', a little son of Charles Booth was baptized.

The season of mourning and fasting having passed, society promises to resume its normal functions, and the present week will go off with a hurrah. Tonight there will be a large meeting of the Men's Club at Radford B. Smith's; Tuesday evening occurs the great whist at the town hall; the last of the Assembly dances comes off this week, and the much talked of and long anticipated wedding at the residence of George W. Fairchild will crown the week with unusual festivities. Already reporters are sharpening their pencils with a view of giving a list of the bridesmaids, the flower and ribbon girls, a description of the bride's dress, the presents and what they had for a wedding dinner, since the ceremony takes place so late in the afternoon it will not be possible to have a breakfast.

the afternoon it will not be possible to have a breakfast.

It was understood that Rev. Mr. Farrer, the new Methodist minister, was unwell and not able to preach yesterday. It is said he has been in the States but about five years, coming to America from St. John, New Foundland. It looks as if he might be an Englishman, one of those devout Wesleyans one meets in traveling abroad.

(Special from United Press.) Washington, April 12.-President Taft abdicated to-day. He turned over the White House grounds to an army of youngsters and they are now energetically mussing up the well-kept lawns, shrubs and vines. This is "egg rolling day" in Washington—the one date of the entire year that belongs to the boys and girls and like his predecessors for many administrations, President Taft has ordered the marine band to play for the tots.

President Taft extended the hour this year for their play-time in the grounds to 3 o'clock. In former years one o'clock has terminated their games.
